His example was a constant inspiration to the agents and a great source of comfort to myself. Such men are rare, and enforcement in Massachusetts is losing in Mr. MacMaster a rugged, fearless, hard-fighting, four-square

SUPREME COURT

IS UNDERPAID,

SAYS BATES

Allowances on Retirement of Judges Advocated by Former Governor

"If we are going to continue to get able men as judges of the State Supreme Court we must pay high salaries," said former Governor John B. Bates to the joint legislative committee on judiciary today in favoring his bill for restoration of retirement allowances to judges of that court.

"The judges of the Supreme Court are the most powerful men in the State," he added, "and we should secure the best men possible for the place. We should give them adequate salaries. Considering the high quality of the service rendered I don't know of any other profession where judges in Massachusetts are paid less than in Massachusetts."

Judges in Massachusetts are paid $10,000 a year while those of Vermont and New York are paid $17,500. New Jersey pays $14,000. 25-400

Gov. Bates said he thought the Massachusetts Supreme Court should be elevated to a level of the work it now does. He thought it should be made a court of last resort.

In response to a question from one of the committee he said he had not carefully considered whether the District Attorney should be tried by jury in the case of the work it now does. He thought it should be made a court of last resort.

OF LIVING

Chairman Hultman of Necessaries of Life Commission Gives Details

The cost of living in Massachusetts dropped one and fourteenth per cent. during January, according to a statement today by Eugene C. Hultman, chairman of the State Commission on Necessaries of Life.

The statement, in part, follows:

"Food, which consumes about 43 per cent of the family budget, showed a decline in many items. Eggs, milk, butter, sugar, flour, bread, corned beef, and bacon prices dropped. While fish, potato, onion, whole ham and veal prices increased."

"Clothing prices reflected a noticeable reduction in the month-end month. Practically every item entering into the composition of the clothing index figure fell below the December price in both men's and women's lines."

"Rentals for the cheaper tenements and middle-class apartments continued their upward trend, although some better class buildings noted high-grade apartments not under lease."

In the fuel section anthracite coal prices were lowered about fifty cents per ton, because of one cent a gallon and gas and electricity rates were slightly raised in certain sections of the Commonwealth."

"Bundling items, which vary according to the income and characteristics of the individual, did not change materially in price. From reports received by this office the demand for other than necessary supplies continued to slacken."

The statement gives comparative figures on the basis of the retail price in 1911 existing 100, as follows:

TREATS TO TAR TEACHER STIR GROVELAND

Flogging of Constance Peppin in School Condemned at Public Meeting

Haverhill, Feb. 7.—Threats to tar and feather Louis E. Conbee, teacher in the Merrimack School, Groveland, who is alleged to have lashed twelve-year-old Constance Peppin 140 times, were made at a public meeting here of 200 citizens.

It was voted unanimously to demand that the school committee hold a public hearing on the charges that the Peppin girl was punished with undue severity by Conbee, and the school principal, Mrs. Ruth E. Sargent. Both principal and teacher have been tentatively suspended pending an investigation by the board.

SCHOOL BOARD ATTACKED.
Criticism was directed against the school board, which "had ignored the petitions for a public hearing."

The citizens' meeting was called by Attorney Hubert C. Thompson and Mr. H. Sullivan, counsel for Mrs. Marie Peppin, of No. 28 Main street, Haverhill, mother of the girl. To obtain the sentiment of the townspeople and the meeting, which they desired should be taken in the case, Thompson presided.

A Franklin Priest, city solicitor of Haverhill, appeared as counsel for Arthur Peppin, the father of the girl who lives on Ivy street, Boston.

DEPLORES NOTORIETY.
Edward J. Trone, who deplored the "notoriety that the town received as a result of the case," exclaimed that "it would be advisable to get some tar and feathers."

Mrs. Iva Brooks Plunk of Haverhill, a nurse and city nurse, also addressed the meeting. A resolution demanding a public hearing was passed.

While the "indignation meeting" was being held the school board was holding its private investigation of the affair at the home of Robert Crawford, one of the board members. Mrs. Ruth Sargent, the principal, and Louis Conbee, the teacher accused, were present to tell their stories.

LOSER TO GIVE OYSTER SUPPER FOR VOTERS
Haverhill, Feb. 7.—Charles S. Conbee, loser for everybody who voted at the Haverhill town meeting, must now give an oyster supper for the voters.

Conbee was defeated for cemetery committee by Ralph H. Lehan, 34 to 21. In Windsor there were more ballots cast for second Selectmen than there were voters. W. C. Estee, a candidate, charged the women with stuffing the ballot box. At Haverhill voters chose a committee to obtain a doctor to live in the town, there none being there.

C. F. Hovey Co. 52 "OPPORTUNITIES"

Established 1841
33 Summer, 9 Chauncy, 43 Avon Sts.

Tomorrow Only—Wednesday, February Eighth—at Hovey's

They Are Ready
Tomorrow Morning at 9
---And Here's What
We Have to Say
About Them---

"OPPORTUNITIES" are not offered merely for the purpose of disposing of the merchandise offered here at such low prices. In every instance we could profitably dispose of them at higher prices.

"Opportunities" have a much broader scope than to obtain one day's business. Their purpose is to put more merchandise of Hovey quality into the hands and homes of the people of Boston, where it will demonstrate to them its unmistakable worth.

Finally, "Opportunities" are offered to make friends—more, steady customers—for this eighty-year-old quality store.

The importance of each "Opportunity" should not be judged by the space it occupies, nor by the size of the type used, but by the outstanding value it represents. In presenting them in this form, we are exercising the same sane economy you will be practicing when you come here tomorrow.

We assure you that if you come for even the smallest (in cost) of these "Opportunities," you will not be disappointed, but will find that you have been informed of a most worthy saving.

"Opportunities" will not be offered at any regular, stated period—this inaugural offering took weeks of preparation, and only when we were assured that everything was as represented—in quality, in VALUE—did we make this announcement.

We cannot guarantee that these lots, at these prices, will last longer than one day.

No one knows when "Opportunities" will knock again. So no woman can afford to ignore their strong appeal to her savings instinct tomorrow.

LORRYVICKS MAY GET FAVORS, SAYS WALKER

Declares "Legislative Attorneys" Use Corrupt Means and Sell Influence to Clients

Corruption in connection with the passage of legislation at the State House was charged today by Joseph Walker, former speaker of the House, in addressing the joint legislative committee on Judiciary.

During his attack upon lobbyists, he said: "Certain legislative attorneys by corrupt means have established for themselves permanent influence on Boston Hill, which influences them to sell to their clients for such large fees as to make themselves rich men."

He made this attack while favoring the passage of House bill 145, "for the regulation of activities of persons proposing or opposing legislation for compensation."

In addition, Mr. Walker said: "This bill strikes at an obnoxious, glaring evil in the lobby system on Boston Hill."

"Simply stated the evil is this—certain legislative attorneys place legislators under personal obligation to themselves or their clients by appealing for support to legislators on charges."

The bill attacks this evil in its most vital point. "It provides in substance that legislative attorneys and agents shall not place legislators under obligation by contributing money to them, by paying, and then seeking, for pay, to influence their votes on bills before the General Court. This is contrary to law and it is a serious evil."

Former Representative Robert M. Washburn spoke briefly in favor of the bill, which was introduced by the Roosevelt Club.

Under the terms of the proposed law, any person who contributes financially toward the nomination or election of a member of the General Court, except through a political state, city or town committee, shall be liable for conviction seeks directly or indirectly to influence the vote of such member shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Can't Regulate Theater Prices, States Brackett

"The burden of higher prices for Saturday and holiday performances in theaters falls upon those who can least afford to pay them, the working people," said Henry F. Brackett of Boston in support of a measure to stop the practice. He favored the bill of Senator Chas. F. Hendon before the legislative committee on Local Affairs.

Judge Brackett, in opposition to the bill, said that similar measures had been before the Legislature for twenty years, but were useless because the theater is a private business, not even quasi-public in nature.

Lighted Plates for Autos Is Favored

Reference to the Preston murder trial was made today by Representative Michael P. Shaw of Revere during a legislative committee hearing on a bill authorizing the use of illuminated number plates on automobiles at night. "A very important feature of the bill is the fact that it controls around the identity of the number plate, because one who was not distinct through lack of light."

TEST MONUMENT OF WAR HERO IS ATTACKED

U. S. Commissioner Hayes Declares Holder of D. S. C. Might Still Be a Lion

"A man may receive the Distinguished Service Cross and still be the biggest liar in the world," remarked United States Commissioner Hayes when Howard M. Madison, temporary prohibition agent, was before him today.

Madison, an overseas veteran, with five wound stripes and winner of the cross for distinguished service, appeared in the hearing on the validity of the search warrant issued when $200,000 worth of pre-war liquors were seized in Keefe Brothers' store at No. 111 Dartmouth street January 25.

He was one of the two agents who swore to affidavits which prompted the issuing of a search warrant to invade the store.

Quoted by Attorney Daniel A. Shea, Madison admitted violating the law by registering at the Keefe Hotel on October 17 under an assumed name. Other admissions having to do with "the points," payment of a gambling debt, the check was drawn upon and advising a friend where "to get liquor" were extracted by the attorney.

Then, when Assistant United States Attorney Edgar L. Stone brought out the above-quoted remark and asked "if he was to be held responsible for the appellation of a temporary prohibition agent," Madison admitted that he has not been appointed to do so.

CANNING WOULD CURB TALKING AT MOVIES

Regulation of "gum-chewing flappers" who use motion picture theatres to carry on extended conversations was urged today before the legislative committee on Local Affairs by Thomas H. Canning of the Knights of Labor in opposition to a bill prohibiting sale of tickets in amusement places unless seats are available.

Canning also urged something be done to curb male patrons of movies who annoy women sitting beside them. He thought it would be a good thing to prevent patrons from reading about screen captions.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY Debutantes Will Hear Talk on Judge Baker Foundation

By BETTY ALDEN

EVERY Tuesday finds the buds assembled for their weekly luncheon and the meeting following it, so that today members of the "Just out" contingent will listen to the address of Dr. William Baker when the luncheon is over. Dr. Baker will tell of his work with the Judge Baker Foundation.

The debutantes have had no end of interesting speakers and winter of these regular Tuesday affairs, and when the season is over the youthful Junior League girls may carry with them into the next year many pleasant memories. Last Week Miss DeLonghy addressed the girls on "Some of the Joys of Being Under Bolshevik Government."

The speaker, who has lived over seven years in Russia, did not dwell at length upon the horrors of the bolshevik regime, but rather of the great hardships endured by those who have escaped the wrath of the authorities in the country which harbors the off-growing Russian host.

Miss DeLonghy herself escaped from that country last July.

But the entertainment committee of the league has provided a number of entertainers of less serious vein for these weekly luncheons.

Recently the girls had the opportunity of hearing the well-known Mrs. William Stanley Parker (better known as Mrs. Vernon street) give a number of her clever monologues. Shortly before this, Helenka Adanowska, whose histrionic ability is well known to her host of friends among the smart set, entertained the girls, also with some monologues.

Agropen of the Junior League, on Friday of this week, a group of about thirty provincial members of the Junior League, led by Miss Isabella Munford of Chestnut Hill, met early in the afternoon to visit the Health Centre of the Instructive Nursing Association on North Beacon street, in Brighton.

The girls will be joined by Mrs. Ernest Anson Colman and Mrs. Robert DeNormandy, president and vice-president of the league, and the supervisor of the Brighton station and Miss Anne Devaney, chief of staff, who will explain the work of the Health Centre and other interesting activities.

Friday's meeting is one of a series which has been arranged for the purpose of giving the girls, most of them debutantes, some idea of the various kinds of work which call for volunteers, so that next year when they may choose to take thing which they know really are their own, rather than taking up the first thing at hand.

As I have said before, the royal "babes" debutante or society girl has gone. Nowadays, practically every member of the younger set has some special interest, be it volunteer social service work, music, designing, painting, or some other form of the fine arts.

STOVE SAYS 5-CT. FARE NOW IS IMPOSSIBLE

John F. Stevens Discusses Cost at Roxbury Centre Meeting

Parts and figures relative to the operation of the Boston Elevated Rail way were given to a large crowd at the Roxbury School Centre, Grove street, by John F. Stevens, one of the trustees of the road, and Frank W. Merrick, chairman of the United Improvement Association, in the course of a debate on "The Five-Cent Fare—Is It Possible?"

Mr. Stevens contended that Mayor Curley's proposal for a reduction in fares to five cents at the same time is impossible, as both could not be brought about.

It cost 5.5 cents to carry a passenger during December, said Stevens, and the average for the past few months was 5.1 cents.

"It is possible to have a five-cent fare," he said. "It is possible not to pay any fare, provided the cities and towns served by the Elevated take over the burden and pay the difference in the fares."

He declared the present labor cost of carrying a passenger is 4.4 cents, and that the fare should be reduced to 4 cents more, which is 5 cents there, without counting other charges.

As to the reserve fund amounts to $2,000,000, which Stevens expects will be by the end of July, the Elevated will begin paying back some of the money borrowed of the cities and towns it serves.

It was expected, he added, that enough would be paid to Boston to cut the tax rate 47 cents.

The United Improvement Association, said Merrick, believes the cities and towns will co-operate with the people in bringing back a fast five-cent fare.

He showed a decrease in the number of passengers carried in 1921 of 4,000 over those carried in 1917, contrasted with an increase in receipts from $19,000,000 to $22,000,000 last year.

CURLEY GOES TO WASHINGTON ON SHIP'S ERRAND

Mayor Makes Final Effort to Bring Steamship Leviathan to Navy Yard

Mayor James M. Curley is in Washington today to make a final effort to bring the big steamship Leviathan to the Boston Navy Yard for repairs.

Despite the refusal of the national government to turn the contract for the repairs of the Leviathan over to the navy yard, Mayor Curley will propose a new plan, which he hopes will bring the ship here.

Following his inauguration, the Mayor announced his appointments: urged the City Council to cooperate with him; attended a dinner with Mrs. Curley given at the Hotel Somerset; by Shawmut Council, Knights of Columbus, and hurried off to Washington.

At the banquet the Mayor was mentioned for Governor and United States Senator by the Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell. In responding the Mayor said: "I have no desire for the office of United States Senator. When the proper time comes, if my friends stand by me, and my enemies are not too hard on me, I will attain the office of Governor."

"No man or woman will ever have cause to blush for anything I have done, nor will anyone who has good wishes toward me on this occasion have cause to regret it."

State Deputy William C. Proulx of the Knights of Columbus referred to the Mayor as "the leading Catholic layman in the State."

When Curley left Boston he went with the knowledge that the new City Council was deadlock in an attempt to elect a president. Four ballots showed three votes for Lane, three for Donoghue and three for Brickley.

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

By FRISDA DAVID.

Miss Murray, star of "Peaches Alley," is here at last. After a much anticipated engagement on Broadway, she is being shown at the Park Theatre.

This is the first film Miss Murray has made for an independent producer. The picture is a mixture of several very well known and quite extensively used plots, which Miss Murray and her director, Robert Z. Leonard, have fitted up in rather a naive style.

In order to keep up with the bills her husband, Elmer Harmon, the director, has to pay her a salary of $10,000 a week.

work of Monte Blue saves it more than once.

Miss Murray is, of course, seen as Cleo. She is picturesque, but unconvincing. Her Frenchness is too greatly exaggerated, while her mannerisms have more of a nervousness than exuberance and temperament.

The role is an artificial one and therefore gives her little opportunity for doing more than pose. Once or twice, though, she takes on a little simplicity and sincerity and does worthwhile work.

She follows the lead of the blue-haired heroine transplanted from the French stage. After seeing her mode of life and seeing the pure silk gowns in Paris one wants to laugh when she laps in dignity at the hero. It is a good job, I am sure, of the equivalent.

Monte Blue is seen as the man from Harbortown, who goes to Paris where he meets Cleo, marries her, and leaves her there. There are more angles to life than he really has, but believe, Blue plays with an earnestness and sincerity that never fails to score. It is a good to see him again as a hero, not as the disfigured Danion, splendid though his work on the Griffith production was. He really carries "Peaches Alley," for Miss Murray would have been hard put to make it a success alone.

W. J. Ferguson, one of the most satisfying players we have had on the stage or the screen, is seen in a small role, which he does uncommonly well. Edmund Lowe plays the part of a "Broad way graduate" who frequents the stage door. He is negligible in a rather outlandish portrayal.

Leonard has directed the film to good advantage, and the scenes are splendidly worked up, though a trifle overworked to be really artistic. The films have been written by Frederick and Fanny Hatton and are, for the most part, clever, but they are too long.

WANT TO DIVIDE HELD AS SLAYER YEAR INTO 13 MONTHS AFTER 17-YEAR PURSUIT

Conference at Capital Considering Making Radical Changes in Calendar

By Associated Press.
Washington, Feb. 7.—A national convention of business, professional and scientific men to discuss the question of calendar reform with a view to endorsement of a bill now pending in Congress to substitute for the present time calendar one dividing the year into thirteen months of twenty-eight days each, convened here today under the auspices of the Library of Congress.

The "Library Calendar" bill introduced by Representative Schall with the endorsement of the association, would put the new time schedule into effect in 1925 to give the "other side of the coin" opportunity to follow.

The bill as advocated as affording a standard time schedule for every year which would definitely fix for all time the dates of every day of the week by the uniform, twenty-eight day month division.

On 34 years the old day remaining would be dropped of as "New Year Day," the first of the year, to be given no other designation and retained as a legal holiday.

In "Leap Year," the additional one day lap would be disposed of by creating a "Leap Year Day" before the month of June and July, as a legal holiday. The extra month of the calendar would be called "Vern" to include the "Vernal Equinox."

The proposed calendar would begin the week with Monday instead of Sunday. An estimated saving of $15,000,000 a year now expended on calendars is one argument of the association in support of the proposal.

TO ENTER PROTEST

CUTICURA HEALS
WHITE BLISTERS
On Arms, Face and Chest,
Itched and Burned.

"A rash broke out on my arms and spread to my face and chest. After a while it took the form of white blisters. The itching and burning were unbearable and my clothing aggravated the eruptions. When I scratched the affected parts the blisters would burst and the skin become inflamed. I found Cuticura so effective that I used it until the blisters were healed. I had an advertisement about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some, and after using four boxes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Margaret Sullivan, 34 Thames St., Newport, N. I., Aug. 30, 1921.

"The Green Goddess" a Skillfully-Constructed, Entertaining Melodrama

By FRED J. MEISAC

Not since he played "The Devil" has George Arlino had a role in which his merriment and sinister humor was given a chance of expression until he found "The Green Goddess."

Last night he appeared in this drama by William Archer, the celebrated English dramatic critic, and took to storm a capacity audience at the Plymouth Theatre.

DANGER OF JUST LETTING A COLD RUN ITS COURSE

Public Warned to Beware of a Three Day Cough and Break It Up Before It's Too Late, by Taking Kurokol, the New Scientific Discovery.

Money Refunded If Kurokol Fails to Bring Relief.

Leading authorities are using every effort to arouse the public to the danger of letting common colds run their course, for it is definitely known that many serious complications such as pneumonia, grippe, etc., develop from colds that long to be cured. Colds are curable and preventable, and Kurokol provides the safest, surest and quickest, as well as the most pleasant, treatment for colds. "Kurokol" is a scientific discovery. The first dose usually stops the tendency to sneezing and relieves the feeling of discomfort, and the second and third doses usually suffice to stop the progress of a cold altogether. The wonderful efficacy of Kurokol is proven by the fact that thousands of people are instructed to refund money if Kurokol fails to give the desired result. Advertisement.

DRUG EVIL

Penal Official Advocates Much Heavier Penalties for Peddlers of Narcotics

Heavier punishment for "dope" peddlers and more adequate treatment for drug addicts are recommended by Thomas C. O'Brien, retiring commissioner of penal institutions, in his report for the year 1921, to curb the fast-growing drug evil in Massachusetts.

The narcotic drug evil has grown to such alarming proportions that it has become the subject of a part of the report, and he strongly urges that the Legislature pass measures to make legal selling of drugs a felony. Smuggling of drugs into the State is also a felony, and he suggests that the Legislature pass measures to make it a felony to possess or sell drugs. The use of drugs among the inmates of the House of Correction has become a serious problem for years, because of the ease with which drugs may be smuggled into the institution through friends of inmates and other conduits, of which there are many.

NEW POLICY INSTITUTE

A new policy of dealing with prisoners found in possession of drugs was inaugurated one year ago. Instead of solitary confinement in punishment cells, prisoners are now confined in the court for possession of drugs. In one instance, a man was sentenced to two years in prison for possession of drugs, and in another instance, a man was sentenced to one year in prison for possession of drugs. The new policy of dealing with prisoners found in possession of drugs was inaugurated one year ago. Instead of solitary confinement in punishment cells, prisoners are now confined in the court for possession of drugs.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

To December the subject of a conference of public officials was broached. At a meeting to discuss the subject of drugs, the State and city officials met with the Federal government, director, and cooperation of all agencies was pledged: first to a suppression of the illicit traffic; secondly, to the securing of the necessary legislation to deal with the drug dealer and to make drug peddling a felony; and thirdly, to provide in one of the institutions suitable for the medical treatment of drug habitues over a long period.

Three Candy Men in Woburn Court on Boys' Charges

Charged with having induced four small boys to steal more than $100 worth of candy and chewing gum from Woolworth's store in Woburn, three confectionery store proprietors were before Judge Maguire in Woburn Court today to answer charges of receiving stolen property.

One of the men, Peter Cacciatto, eighteen years old, who with his father, Cusmo, runs a store on Main street, pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 and ordered to make restitution. The father entered a plea of not guilty and was discharged after a hearing. The third defendant, James Quinno, pleaded not guilty and secured a continuance until February 11. The boys are being held by Juvenile Court authorities.

JUDGE REFUSES FREEDOM TO LORING

Finds Actor's Marriage to Bridgeport Woman Was in Good Faith

The petition of Benjamin F. Loring, an actor, that his marriage to Catherine C. Perry of Bridgeport, actress, be annulled, was denied today by Judge John of Superior Court. Loring, in his petition, had asked that his marriage be annulled on the ground that he had obtained a divorce in Maine to evade the Massachusetts law. Loring cannot get a divorce in his own right, as he was fully divorced, their marriage is legal and valid. I find the marriage is in good faith and valid, and that the child born of it is legitimate.

Witnesses testified that Loring was a single man at the time. Loring had a wife living, but had obtained a divorce in Maine to evade the Massachusetts law. Loring cannot get a divorce in his own right, as he was fully divorced, their marriage is legal and valid. Leon, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Adam Anselmi, 40 Murray street, left today for a leather factory with her husband's dinner. Alone in the house were Peter, aged four, and his two-year-old sister. The mother was gone ten minutes. When she returned Peter was being sent to a hospital and his baby sister was hysterical. Peter had discovered where the matches were kept. He is expected to die. Henry Corbetta, owner of the house, heard the boy's cries and tore off his flaming clothes.

WIFE WHO SAVED CRUEL HUSBAND FROM MOB WANTS DIVORCE

A L'IL DEVILISH! Miss Mabel George, while enjoying a peaceful little fishing trip off the coast of Monterey, raised the devil fish and he became entangled in her line. She struck him several times with a rock and he laid right down and died. That's you all over, Mabel! Poor Fish! (Underwood.)

KNOW HIM? You do and you don't! Germany may decree to limit her imports, but she can't keep Charlie Chaplin out. Charlie is a prime favorite in Berlin and this imitator is a "German theatre sandwich man." (International.)

TAKING A CHANCE! Here's the brave and daring manner in which they fight big game in India. Lord Mountbatten, who accompanied the Prince of Wales, is shown ready for a hunt. (International.)

MAKING LIFE Worth While! Miss Lillian H. Tutchow is the first woman insurance broker in England. She has just opened offices in London as director and manager for a prominent English concern. Here she is interviewing a client. (International.)

CARRYING ON! Princess Kabanakole of Hamsale, who has just taken the position on the Hawaiian Rehabilitation Commission, made vacant by the death of her husband. She is well-known in Washington. (Keystone.)

LIKE A PAGE FROM A PICTURE BOOK! A picturesque glimpse of Murren in the Alps, the fashionable meeting place of fashionable Europe. Many Americans prefer it to St. Moritz. Life there is just now darn winter sport after another—with the big open fireplace, a soothing beverage and a discussion of the day's fun in the evening. Photo shows the hotel slide. (Underwood.)

MILLS OF THE GODS, ETC. Mrs. Vivian York, the Chicago woman who caused such a stir a year ago by defending her husband from an infuriated Detroit mob after he had slapped her face on the street, now wants a divorce. (International.)

DARE DEVIL or Lucky Man? Mrs. S.H. Pettrey, widow of the notorious gunman of Mingo County, West Virginia, is married again, her third adventure in 13 months. Her first two husbands were shot to death in the street. Her new husband is S. H. Pettrey of the State constabulary. (International.)

GIVE US A RIDE ON THE HANDLEBARS, LADY! "Cycling" in the snow is a new and thrilling sport enjoyed by the sojourners at Murren in the Swiss Alps. Here is Miss Gwan Chawett trying out her new "bike." (Underwood.)

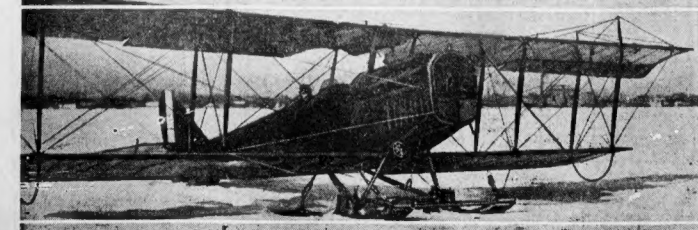

MORE O' THAT MOVIE POISON! One drop and his toes "fiddle daddies, or orange blossoms" or whatever it is they have out in Los Angeles, where this was taken. The chap making the jump is Richard Dix, movie actor, who, as you can see, is not a lounge lizard himself. (International.)

HERE'S THE "Dullest Gal You Ever Saw," and guess she comes from Arkansas. The American Legion of El Dorado objects to changing the name of Arkansas—and this young lady is a resumé. She was picked as the girl most typically Arkansas. (Keystone.)

MERCURY TAKES TO WHEELS! This chap is not only up in the air, but he's on the jump, too. He won first prize for high jumping with a motorcycle at the recent contest at Boise, Idaho. Photo shows him on his winning jump. The machine swerved sideways off the runway, but landed squarely. (Gilliam.)

SNOW USE, SNOW WON'T KEEP 'EM DOWN! Although the sled or ski has its disadvantages in "taking off" and landing, a plane ski has been so perfected that little or no trouble is experienced by the fliers in landing. For one thing, a plane cannot stop as quickly in a given distance with skis as with wheels. This "bus" skis were recently tried out at Bolling Field, Washington, with the new type of plane ski and the experiments proved that landing and "taking off" in the snow will be one of the minor handicaps of the flier in frozen regions. The skis are very similar to the ordinary kind worn by sport enthusiasts. (International.)

KEEPING THE "LITTLE DEERS" ALIVE! Reindeers, according to the naturalists, thrive on Alaskan moss and when deprived of it they sicken and die. These two animals, who make their habitat in the Yosemite National Park, are being fed natural as a substitute for the moss and it has been found, thus far, very satisfactory. Mrs. Hines, who first fed the deer the substitute food, is now able to feed them out of her hands. She is here shown feeding the animals. (Keystone.)

AGAN PAULINE FREDERICK FALLS IN CUPID'S NET

Boston Actress Bride for Third Time; Now Mrs. C. A. Rutherford

Pauline Frederick, Boston's motion picture actress who is famed as the most beautiful woman in the movies, was married in Santa Ana, Cal., to C. A. Rutherford, 37, of the age of 30, and a native of the city, in a ceremony which was held in the city.

The wedding ceremony was a surprise to most of Pauline's friends here. She was married in Santa Ana, Cal., to C. A. Rutherford, 37, of the age of 30, and a native of the city, in a ceremony which was held in the city.

Pauline Frederick, who was born and brought up in Boston, was on the stage in 1907. For some ten years she remained on the legitimate stage, to leave finally for the screen, where she has since starred.

ENTER THE SCREEN FIELD.

At about the time she entered the motion picture field, Miss Frederick was married to Frank M. Andrews, a millionaire New York architect. She lived with him for several years, to separate finally, in 1911, and return to the city. She chose at the time that her husband should not be informed of her return, and after some months of separation the two were divorced.

Miss Frederick then turned herself into her work and struck up a friendly relationship with William Mark, the playwright. Mark was at that time married to another actress, Marguerite Rutherford, and when she died he married her. She obtained the divorce, and returned to California to the picture business.

PRODUCED LOVE NOTES

Following the divorce came rumors that the two were to be married, but the actress effectively quashed them when Mark called to her at the city. She was at that time married to another actress, Marguerite Rutherford, and when she died he married her. She obtained the divorce, and returned to California to the picture business.
